DEBATE COMPETITION - VOICE OF YOUTH

On Constitution Day, November 26, 2022, GECCS, in collaboration with GECCS MUN and UDDAN Club, hosted a compelling debate on the implementation of a Uniform Civil Code (UCC) in India. Held in the Electrical Seminar Hall, the event provided a distinguished platform for GECCS students to express their perspectives on faith, equality, and constitutional principles.

Following the Model United Nations (MUN) style, the debate featured students divided into two sides, engaging in structured discussions with opening speeches, Points of Information (POIs), and Points of Order (POOs). The discourse explored the complexities of UCC implementation, showcasing well-researched arguments for and against the initiative.

Approximately 24 students actively participated, presenting articulate views on the potential benefits, such as national integration and gender equality, while also addressing concerns related to cultural diversity and potential impacts on religious laws.

Judges, including faculty members and peers from GECCS MUN and UDDAN Club, commended participants for their eloquence and respectful engagement. Certificates were distributed to recognize the commendable efforts of all participants, emphasizing GECCS's commitment to fostering informed discussion on national issues. The debate successfully achieved its objective by encouraging critical thinking and providing a respectful platform for dialogue on the implementation of the Uniform Civil Code.
